Romney Hits U. S. Policy in Viet Nam

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has assailed the Johnson administration on the Vietnam war, saying the administration had made some decisions on a basis of political expediency. He declined to give an example of his charge.

Romney, on a tour of the west, spent more than 30 minutes at a Pocatello news conference Tuesday parrying questions about his position on Vietnam.

Asked if he would say what the political expediencies were, the Republican governor replied: "No, I will not."

"Why?" asked a reporter. "Because I choose not to," Romney replied.

"Do you mean you make charges and won't substantiate them?" he was asked. "Not at this time," he said.

Asked if his position on Vietnam was not political expediency, he replied: "No."

Romney spent Tuesday on a nostalgic tour of some scenes of his boyhood in agricultural eastern Idaho, and in three speeches continued to hammer away at the Johnson administration.

At the news conference, Idaho Gov. Don W. Samuelson said "it's a little too early to make any commitments," when asked if he would support Romney for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I can't tell you at this point because he hasn't announced," said Samuelson.

Romney has not announced for the nomination, but has indicated he is considering it and is making this trip to help him decide.

Romney's trip earlier took him to Alaska and Utah. He will be in New Mexico and Arizona before he returns to Michigan.

He was scheduled to fly to Albuquerque, N.M., this afternoon.

House Group Seeks Decision on Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — With one member insisting that Adam Clayton Powell be expelled from Congress, a House committee tries again today to reach unanimous agreement on lesser punishment of severe censure plus pay penalties.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., admitted after all-day sessions Tuesday that the nine-member committee's failure to conclude its deliberations was due to his desire to achieve unanimity on the recommendation which must go to the House by Thursday night.

Celler said "we may have to do some compromising," and added "I will bend over backward to get a unanimous report."

The committee plans to stay in session today until it concludes its work.

Rep. Claude D. Pepper, D-Fla., was reported the major obstacle to unanimity, contending within and outside the committee that Powell's alleged official misconduct is serious enough to warrant his expulsion from the House.

Members of the committee who tend to favor censure rather than expulsion argue that expelling Powell would make him a martyr and that he would quickly be returned to the House in the special election that would take place to fill his vacant seat.

The committee's ranking Republican, Rep. Arch A. Moore of West Virginia, said agreement had been reached on some major issues before the committee. One of these is believed to be that Powell should be seated before being punished or expelled. Members are understood to be anxious to avoid a possible court challenge of any move to exclude Powell, who apparently meets age, citizenship and ineligibility requirements of the Constitution.

Exclusion before Powell is seated would require only majority approval. Expulsion after his seating would require two-thirds approval.

Pepper told reporters Tuesday that "if a man is bad enough to be disciplined so severely, he ought to be expelled."

The current plan by supporters of the censure move is to combine the seating censure and all penalties into one resolution which would then require a simple majority for adoption. The matter is expected to come before the House next Tuesday.

One likely part of Powell's punishment is expected to be a plan to withhold from his salary some $35,000 in government funds which he is alleged to have converted to his own use.

appropriation measures. The general appropriation bill must be approved before the legislature can proceed to others.

The unemployment compensation bill by Rep. Cayle Windsor of Little Rock disqualifies a person who leaves his job without cause from drawing unemployment ment benefits until he has completed 30 days of paid work. Presently, a worker becomes eligible after an eight-week unemployment period.

The Arkansas State AFL-CIO opposes the measure, which Windsor said was aimed at the "professionally unemployed" who cost the state $1 to $1½ million annually in unemployment benefits.

Reps. N. B. (Nap) Murphy of Hamburg and Charles Smithers of Benton said, however, it would adversely affect other workers.

Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman said the pipeline bill would enable Arkansas to compete with the Gulf Coast area, which produces most of the anhydrous ammonia used in fertilizers in the United States.

He said the measure by Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin and others might create as many as five new industries in Arkansas. He added that one company, Arkansas Louisiana Chemical Co., planned to lay a pipeline from its anhydrous ammonia plant at Helena across the state and through Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

YOUR HELPING HAND DEPARTMENT

Dear Readers: I've been corresponding with a young woman I think you ought to know. She writes: "In a way I'm a little selfish, because I get so much fun out of my small efforts to cheer others. God has been good to me. I have so many friends, so much to do that 24 hours a day isn't enough."

This is Edith Eltringham, age 26, who lives with her parents at 1776 West Chestnut Street, Shamokin, Pennsylvania.

Edith is slowly turning to stone. For eight years she has been bedfast with a disease which progressively shrinks her flesh and hardens the joints. Her body has become all but immobile. She cannot walk or relax in a chair or even curl up in bed.

Yet Edith is so full of life and love that her telephone is never quiet, her mailbox never empty. Friends bring her their problems, share their joys with her. Pity? Never! Edith isn't that kind of girl.

She corresponds with eight soldiers in Viet Nam, and with several shut-ins. "My chest of drawers is my writing desk and table," she says. And I write letters while I stand to eat my meals. I have enough strength to stand 45 minutes four times a day, so I try to write first to those I might help. You'd be SHOCKED at the number of folks who have no one at all!

Edith's fragile body is rigid, but she can use her hands and her mind. She reaches out to people, questions them about THEIR lives, projects empathy, courage and cheer. She believes the business of life is living and she devotes hers to fulfilling that commitment. She doesn't waste precious moments worrying about her own troubles. There's no time for that - not in days filled with "doing-for" others. In her alone-time she writes poetry, clever verses which she sends to her correspondents.

Yes, I thought you'd like to know Edith Eltringham. She's worth knowing! Why don't you drop her a line and tell her so? - H.

Dear Helen: This is an open letter to fashion editors. Why do you make your female models stand with their legs so wide apart that they look awkward and gawky, not to mention indecent? You almost never see a model standing any other way these days. - U. G.

Dear U: Good question. Any-one for answers? - H.

Dear Helen: A friend of my husband's started boarding with us. He said as soon as he got a job he would pay us $75 a month. That was three months ago. Still nothing. We are his chauffeur, I'm his washer-woman, cook, maid -

SMU Blasts Hogs, Keep SWC Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Methodist beat Arkansas 69-66 to maintain its two-game lead in the Southwest Conference basketball race Tuesday night and found the threat to championship ambitions diminishing by half.

And that half still in position to capitalize on any SMU slump in the stretch is mighty weak with its motions.

Texas Tech continued to raid the ranks of the contenders as it strapped Texas 88-78. This knocked the Longhorns back so far they don't even have that hope that's supposed to spring eternal.

Southern Methodist has a 9-2 record, two games better than the 7-4 to the credit of Texas Christian. There are only three games to play.

Texas stands 6-5, three games out of first and pretty despondent about the whole thing.

SMU can clinch at least a tie for the title Saturday night by beating Rice at Houston. If Texas Christian should lose to Arkansas at Fayetteville, it would be all over — Southern Methodist would be champion.

Arkansas tried the only thing it figured might have a chance to stop SMU, or at least slow it down. The Razorbacks played a delay game and troubled the Methodist some—but not enough that they ever appeared in much danger in the second half.

Texas Tech won its fourth straight after a poor start and had to fight from behind five times to do it. The Red Raiders finished very fast, outscoring the Longhorns 12-4 in the final three minutes to break open a tight game.

The score was tied 15 times and the lead changed hands 13. Texas Christian dominated the backboard to beat Rice. The tall Frogs took down 74 rebounds, with James Cash getting 20 of them. Rice managed only 35, which easily accounts for the loss.

The big thriller came at College Station in a game that meant nothing in the conference race. Harry Trippett sank a lay-up with five seconds left to gain the Aggies their triumph after a deflected pass gave them the ball.

It was the only time the Aggies led during the game, capping a comeback after they trailed by 17 points.

Celtics in Win Over the Knicks

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

NEW YORK AP — "I expect this thing to go by the way anytime," said Coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics.

"They can beat us any time," says Celtic forward Bailey Howell.

For the New York Knickerbockers it can't be too soon for any time to come around and for this thing to go by the way.

Russell and Howell made their comments Tuesday night after the Celtics trounced the Knicks 143-114 for their 16th straight victory over New York, dating back to March 17, 1965.

In the National Basketball Association San Francisco turned back Los Angeles 136-133.

National Grid League Marks Time

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer HONOLULU AP — The National Football League still is marking time today on the controversial college draft formula after making minor changes in the playing rules and setting up the schedule for its profitable postseason title play.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle has been taking his time before pressing for action on the date and format of the first common draft with the American Football League.

Before the meetings end Thursday or Friday, Rozelle hopes to have his forces in agreement on separate regular and red shirt drafts in mid-March. The AFL already has separate drafts for the red shirts, players who still have college eligibility although their original class has graduated.

Rozelle said Tuesday the draft had not come up yet although there had been some discussion of proposals that restrict trading of draft choices, especially the red shirt variety. However, no action has been taken.

"I say graciously. The fact is, Dean couldn't make it any further and they called it off. No peanut butter for that boy."

Frazier Talks About Meet With Clay

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA AP — The question is not does Joe Frazier look ready for Cassius Clay, but rather is Clay ready for Joe Frazier?

Durham, who trains Frazier, was discussing his unbeaten Philadelphia heavyweight's future after Frazier pole axed the veteran Doug Jones Tuesday night in the sixth round of a scheduled fight.

The knockout punch came at 2:36 of the sixth and left Jones on the canvas for more than a minute. It was a tremendous overhand left that caught the New Yorker flush on the jaw. He toppled forward on the ropes and rolled over on his back.

A crowd of 7,203 paid $46,432 to see what turned out to be a slaughter by the 23-year-old Frazier.

AAU Group Threatened With Suit

NEW YORK AP — The U. S. Track and Field Federation accused the Amateur Athletic Union of violating antitrust laws and threatened an indemnity suit of at least $100,000 today in the latest development in the nation's track and field war.

The Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley, president and one of the organizers of the USTFF, said the USTFF represented 90 percent of the track and field interests in this country and the organization saw no need to request sanction for its competitions.

The matter of sanctions is the center of the long-simmering dispute between the AAU and the collegiate body and resulted recently in the suspension by the AAU of 11 foreign athletes who competed in a nonsanctioned USTFF meet.

The AAU, in a surprise move, lifted the suspensions Tuesday and said steps were being taken to clear foreign students for all authorized competition — open and collegiate — in the United States.

Big 10 Has Illinois on Trial

CHICAGO AP — The University of Illinois goes on trial today before Big Ten athletic directors and Commissioner Bill Reed.

Reed will present a report to the athletic directors on his investigation of athletic irregularities stemming from last December's exposure of a $21,000 slush fund.

Reed's investigation began Dec. 16, shortly after the university revealed the athletic department had been operating an unauthorized fund solicited outside the university for a period of five years.

The university immediately suspended 12 football and basketball players who had received unauthorized financial assistance and placed football Coach Pete Elliott and basketball Coach Harry Combes on one year's probation, prohibiting them from personal contact with prospective athletes.

for the 43 annual San Francisco Shrine football game Dec. 30. Managing director Bert Jacobs announced Tuesday that Parseghian will take the job filled by Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty last December.

The two East assistants will be Alex Agase of Northwestern and Paul Dietzel of South Carolina, who was an assistant to Daugherty. This marks his first appearance.

Parseghian was on the East coaching staff in 1962 and 1963 while with Northwestern.

PITCHING—Lew Burdette (7-2), Jack Sanford (13-7) stole extra year from the clock in 1966. Lew is 40, Jack 38. Whether they repeat is vital question for Angels. Fred Newman (4-7) had arm problems in '66, Marcelino Lopez (7-14) slumped. Two years before they were among AL's most promising youngsters. George Brunet (13-13) had best year in majors, lefty Clyde Wright (4-7) showed promise. Minnie Rojas (7-4), Pete Cimino (2-5, 2.91 ERA), Burdette the bullpen crew. Nick Willhite, former Dodger, gets shot at starting job. Jim Coates getting last major league chance. RATING—C+.

INFIELD—Don Mincher, obtained in trade with Twins, adds power at first base. Bobby Knoop, second base, Jim Fregosi, shortstop, established double-play combo. Knoop hit 17 HR, had 70 RBI last year, but hit just 232 Paul School, 244 hitter, at third base infield reserves will come from rookie corps. RATING—B-.

OUTFIELD—Rick Reichardt (288, 16 HR) had fantastic start last year, then missed last half of season due to kidney operation. Rick says he feels fine now. Jose Cardenal adds speed, 276 batting average. Jimmie Hall, former Twin, brings long-ball threat to Anaheim. Hit 20 HR for Twins last year. RATING—B.

CATCHING—Switchhitter Bob Rodgers (236) has never played up to potential. Even so, he's still one of league's finest catchers. Could be one of game's best if he raises his batting average. Tom Satriano (.239) his backup. Young Tom Egan hoping for a chance. RATING—B-.

BENCH—Outfielder Jay Johnstone, hitting .264 Len Gabrielson, former Twins, a capable pinch-hitter. Al Spangler, bouncing back to Kip Kirkpatrick still trying to make it. Swingers. Angels need some balance sub. RATING—C+.

SUMMARY—Angels went for power when they traded Dean Chance to Twins for Mincher. Hall. It's the old question. Can power offset lack of pitching? Too many questions about Angel pitching. Can Burdette, Sanford repeat? Is Newman healthy? PREDICTION—Far from a vintage year, 7TH

METHODIST HYMNAL FOR BAPTISTS
LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — Members of Liberty Baptist Church sat in stunned silence when Johnnie Beard began leading their song service.

Beard was in a Methodist church four blocks away.

It seems the Methodists were hooked up for a broadcast over the local radio station, and the speaker system in the Baptist church was plugged in to receive.

A few plugs were pulled and things were back to normal.

Dove Leads St. John's to Victory

Sonny Dove virtually wrapped up a post-eastern tournament for the St. John's University Redmen of New York Tuesday night.

The 6-foot-8 star threw in 27 points and grabbed 12 rebounds to come from behind with a 71-64 victory over eighth-ranked Syracuse in the top college basketball game of the night.

"He whipped us good," said Syracuse Coach Fred Lewis after Dove's brilliant play snapped the 12-game winning streak of the Orange and also a 22-game home court streak.

Syracuse led by seven points midway of the second half before three straight baskets by Dove cut the deficit to one and ignited a 14-4 spurt in the closing minutes for St. John.

St. John's, now 19-3, now is expected to have the choice of playing either in the NCAA or the NIT when invitations are issued Thursday to the two major postseason tournaments.

Connecticut clinched its 15th Yankee Conference title in 20 years and an automatic bid to the NCAA by crushing New Hampshire 42 points by Wes Blaltsuknia.

Villanova, 15-3, boosted its hopes for an NIT bid by upsetting Providence 55-52 on the Friars' home court. Jimmy Walker, Providence star, was held to only five points compared to his 29.1 average as the Wildcats chalked up their eighth victory in nine starts.

Southern Methodist maintained its two-game lead in the Southwest Conference by beating Arkansas 69-66 at Dallas.

That Spring Training Is Here Again

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer From headaches to holdouts signings to retiring baseball ran the gamut Tuesday as spring training rolled around.

Pitcher Milt Pappas, the man Baltimore traded to Cincinnati for Frank Robinson, tried to clear up the headaches by refusing a blast Monday by teammate Joe Nuxhall, who claimed Pappas did not give the ball club an honest effort.

"I was bothered the whole season with sinus," retorted Pappas, who finished with a 12-11 mark. "I figured what's the use of jeopardizing a ball game with a sinus headache."

Pappas, a 10-year veteran with a 122-85 record, passed on part of those headaches to the Reds by adding he would not be on hand when Cincinnati opens spring training in Tampa Friday.

Americans to Carry Explosion

MONTREAL, AP — Nobody is sure how many people will attend Montreal's World Fair called Expo 67, but everybody connected with it seems confident that more Americans than Canadians will see this event in Canada's largest city.

Consultants hired by Expo 67 project the attendance as 55.6 per Canadian — with the remainder from other countries.

The expectation is that the bulk of fairgoers will come from a radius of 600 miles, an area where 90 million live. New York is expected to send the largest U. S. Contingent, followed in order by Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan, Illinois, Connecticut and Indiana.

On the optimistic side Mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal has said he expects 20 million persons to make three visits each. Professionals at the fair envision about 36 million visits by 11.7 million persons.

AIMING HIGH with one of the better collegiate basketball teams in the country this season is the University of Toledo. The Rockets' coach is Bob Nichols, left, and Steve Mix (50) is the leading scorer.

Aims to Squelch Sports Image

By PHILIP LEE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

TOLEDO, Ohio—(NEA)—Sports addicts here have been conditioned to feeding on a diet of leftovers.

They can watch the National Hockey League in nearby Detroit, but in Toledo they're stuck with the International League.

The Tigers' and Indians' games make nice major league baseball excursions—but the International League camps in Toledo, and who could forget the Toledo Mud Hens, consistently bringing up the bottom of the old American Association when minor league ball still meant something.

Thoroughbred horse racing draws out-of-shape nags needing early conditioning before richer summer meetings in the Midwest—or the dregs looking for one last purse over a near-frozen fall turf.

But basketball in Toledo is different—or should be. The University of Toledo has a near-perfect record. Yet the Rockets, who compete in the underrated Mid-American Conference, have received little recognition.

Coach Bobby Nichols, true to his profession (notable exception Ara Parseghian), says the national polls don't mean a thing to him—but admits he may have been guilty of the same sin of under-evaluation in mid-season.

"The team is getting better now," said Nichols, who last year—his first as head coach—guided his alma mater to a second-place conference finish.

"They're starting to make me a believer," Nichols continued. "They've been called on many times and have come through."

The Rockets reeled off 14 straight victories to start the season, but received few votes in the weekly polls even though they were the nation's only major unbeaten team, excluding UCLA.

Toledo has run over Notre Dame (18 points) and Marquette (by nine on the road). Butler and Villanova also are among the nonconference victims. The only loss in the first 18 games was 98-81 to Marshall, in a roughhouse affair that erupted into fist-fighting in the late stages.

Marshall is another conference member. It has beaten Loyola of Chicago this season. Bowling Green, sixth in the seven-team league, has defeated three Big Ten schools—Michigan State, Michigan and Wisconsin. Ohio University has accounted for another Big Ten victim, Indiana.

The Mid-American Conference, you see, is a pretty tough league.

The Mid-American champion will play in the Mid-East regional in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament. The opening fee will be an independent, with Notre Dame and Marquette possibilities.

Perhaps this is why Nichols feels the conference representative (Toledo, Marshall or Miami) will make a respectable showing.

Toledo seems well-suited to stand the tournament grind. There are three talented sophomores on the starting five. The best is Steve Mix (6-6, 215), one of the leading scorers in the country with a 22.8 average. Mix also is one of the leaders in field goal percentage (.556).

John Brisker (6-4) and John Rudley, the 5-9 playmaker are the other first year men. Captain Bill Backensto, and junior Willie Babione round out the starting five.

Mix is the main threat. In

Between you'n'me

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Hank Bauer, the manager of the world champion Baltimore Orioles, has discovered a dirty word.

He can even pronounce it: "Complacency." "I think that's my biggest job this year," he said, "fighting it."

Hank became aware of the nasty old expression in his travels around the winter circuit of baseball banquets, which can be a disquieting experience in itself. Hank was caught in his 16th straight day of eating medium rare roast beef, at his 18th function, and sighed wistfully. "Only five more. I'm thankful they're about over."

Which meant he could go back to Kansas City, where home is, and then on to Florida in mid-February for what he does best—think, drink and eat baseball.

As manager of the Orioles, champs of the American League and winner over the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight games of the World Series, Hank is resident genius of the game, an anomalous position for a guy who looks like a tough old Marine (which he was) and used to work winters as a plumber.

Bookmaking Operation Is Broken

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Authorities led by State Attorney Richard Gerstein sledge-hammered their way into a luxurious North Miami home Tuesday night and shattered what Gerstein said was a nationwide multimillion-dollar bookmaking operation.

Authorities arrested Martin P. Kane, 44, who Gerstein said had just accepted more than $250,000 in bets over the phone in two hours before the raid.

He said Kane's operation at 2162 NE 122nd Rd., was part of the national bookmaking empire of Gilbert L. Beckley, 55, who was arrested on gambling charges in Nassau County, N.Y., two weeks ago.

Gerstein was accompanied by two of his own investigators and three men from Nassau County, including Dist. Atty. William Cahn who supplied the information that made the raid possible.

Kane, described by Gerstein as "a bookie's bookie," was charged with operating a gambling house and bookmaking.

Raiders said letters found in the home and a car parked across the street belonged to Beckley, described by Cahn as the boss of a nationwide bookmaking setup taking on $100 million a year in the New York area alone.

Cahn said records seized in Kane's bedroom indicated he was taking bets on college and professional basketball games.

Recovered slips indicated $14,000 in wagers on one college basketball game alone, authorities said.

Miami Beach in Offer for Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans, already offered $800,000 by Miami Beach for the privilege of entertaining the 1968 GOP nominating convention, plan now to consider non-financial factors before selecting a site.

Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss told a news conference Tuesday that money offers wouldn't be the overriding factor in picking a convention location.

"Even if a city offered $1 million or $2 million in cash but didn't have the facilities or the rooms available, I wouldn't select it," Bliss said.

He spoke from the comfortable vantage point of having already received five offers from cities willing to put up at least $650,000. That's the minimum demanded by the GOP.

Miami Beach's offer of $800,000 — $650,000 in cash and $150,000 in services — topped the list. Philadelphia has proposed $750,000 and three cities $650,000 each — Houston, Los Angeles.

A sixth city still in the running is Chicago, scene of the 1960 GOP convention. It is expected to submit a minimum bid within two weeks.

Bliss said Republicans will require, in addition to at least $650,000 in cash or services, a city with 10,000 hotel rooms plus a hall big enough to house the convention. San Francisco paid $650,000 for the last GOP national gathering.

Legislative Pay Decision

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Chancellor Murray O. Reed of Pulaski Circuit Court said Tuesday he expected to have ready today a decision on a taxpayer's lawsuit challenging an Arkansas law that appropriates $20 per diem pay to legislators for an extension of the current General Assembly session.

Treasury Defends New Interest Rate

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON AP — The Treasury Department says its new high interest bonds won't disrupt banks or savings and loan associations and shouldn't block any possible lowering of private interest rates.

"Freedom Shares," at .74 per cent interest, go on sale May 1. Banks and savings and loan associations late last year protested the new Treasury issue when the department contemplated a possible 5 per cent interest rate. They feared this rate would draw savings from them.

But the financial community Tuesday wished the Treasury well in a note which stated the bond was to be sold only in combination with Series E savings bonds through the payroll savings or bond-a-month plan.

One savings and loan executive said the new note won't be a significant competitive factor for his industry because of built-in restrictions.

To Probe Death of Astronauts

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON AP — A special House team will probe the Jan. 27 fire that killed three U. S. astronauts after finding "a remarkable number of similarities" between the blaze and a later fire that fatally burned two airmen.

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., of the House Armed Services Committee ordered the investigation Tuesday after receiving a report that safety procedures were inadequate in tests at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex., where the airmen received fatal burns four days after the astronauts perished in their space capsule at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

An investigation subcommittee of Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., and Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., reported Brooks officials didn't realize the extent of the danger of fire in a pure oxygen atmosphere. The capsules in both accidents were filled with pure oxygen.

The two said after an investigation at Brooks that foam rubber sponges were taken into the capsule despite a report officials there had received showing sponge materials burn faster in oxygen than in air.

The congressmen also found that no one was watching outside the capsule in which A3C William F. Bartley, Jr. and A3C Richard G. Harmon were burned Dec. 31. And the report noted there was no television monitor on the capsule.

Swindle Fined at Jonesboro

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gerald M. Swindle was found guilty of disturbing the peace, fined $60.50 and later jailed in lieu of a $500 peace bond Tuesday. Swindle has been involved in a custody battle with his former wife, Valerie Swindle, over their 4-year-old daughter, Sharon.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "At least," said Gregory Peck as the Oscar nominations were announced Monday, "we can no longer be accused of chauvinism."

Webster's defines chauvinism as "vainglorious or exaggerated patriotism."

There was a time when the Academy Awards seemed to be a local monopoly, but that time is past. The academy voters are now prepared to reward excellence in films wherever they are made, and in whatever language.

Acting awards for foreign-language films are not entirely new; Sophia Loren won the big prize in 1961 for playing "Two Women" in Italian. This year two actresses are nominated for non-English performances: Anouk Aimee (French) for "A Man and a Woman" and Ida Kaminska (Czech) for "The Shop on Main Street." Oddly, the latter film won as best foreign-language picture last year; having been released in 1966, it is now eligible in other categories.

Otherwise the Oscars should be subtitled, "the British are coming, the British are coming."

Not only are they coming, they're arriving in pairs. Witness Vanessa Redgrave ("Morning") and Lynn Redgrave

Feels CIA Will Survive This Time

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's spy director faces a Senate watchdog committee today backed by a prediction from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the agency will survive its current "period of discomfiture" with a strengthened intelligence arm.

Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, testifies at a closed hearing of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in the wake of disclosures that the CIA channeled funds to the National Student Association and allegedly to other groups through various foundations.

Mansfield said that the uproar must not be permitted to disrupt the CIA's spying mission.

"There is a vital need for this intelligence activity and it must be protected," Mansfield said. "I think there is developing a Association and allegedly to other groups through various foundations."

Mansfield said that the uproar must not be permitted to disrupt the CIA's spying mission.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The path of duty lies in what is near, and men seek for it in what is remote. The work of duty lies in what is easy, and men seek for it in what is difficult. Menenius said it.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The officers and members of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Perry Town, Arkansas, will observe the Second Pastoral Anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Harris Sunday, February 26, 1967.

Guest speaker for the afternoon service will be the Rev. J. B. Miller, Pastor of Clayborne Chapel A. M. E. Church, Spring Hill, Arkansas. Churches of the city and surrounding areas are invited guests. The public is invited to attend.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Patricia Ann Williams, daughter of Mrs. Marie Williams of Hope, made the Dean's List at Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Miss Williams' grade average is 2.75. Philander is on the 3.0 system. She is a junior, and is majoring in English.

SENIOR CHOIR OF LONOKE SPONSORS BENEFIT PROGRAM

The B Division of the Southwest District singing convention is working to purchase robes for the Arkansas Baptist College Choir. To aid in this project, the senior choir of Lonoke Baptist Church is sponsoring a "Green Leaf Tea" in the annex of the Church Sunday February 26th, from 3 'til 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Rev. Walter White, Pastor.

FUNERALS

Funeral service for Flander Harris, a victim of an automobile accident, will be held Friday February 24th, at 3:00 p.m. at the St. Mark C.M.E. Church, Ozan, Arkansas. Burial in Belk Cemetery under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

Now, from American Motors, the car that wasn't there.

This may well be the most important news to come out of Detroit this year.

A major gap has developed in today's automobile market—a gap that no American-built car is filling. Because this gap exists, over 1,000,000 car buyers a year have not been able to get the car they wanted: a car for the American motorist at a list price competitive to foreign imports.

Today, American Motors' new management and nearly 2,500 American Motors/Rambler Dealers are filling that gap.

As of today, we are limiting future changes in our Rambler American line to essential changes that will further enhance the safety and reliability of these cars.

This will save us millions of dollars—and we and our dealers are passing the savings along to you now. This means that the Rambler American 220 two-door sedan that yesterday listed at $2,073 now lists at $1,839. It means that today, your American Motors/Rambler Dealer has put new price stickers on all nine Rambler American models.

For years, Rambler American has been the best value in an American automobile. Today, priced competitive to imported cars, it is the best automobile value in the world.

This week on television, we promised you exciting news from American Motors.

This is only the beginning.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The first book registered for copyright in the United States was The Philadelphia Spelling Book by John Barry, says The World Almanac. The book was registered on June 9, 1790, just ten days after President Washington signed the first U.S. copyright law. At that time, the law applied only to maps, charts and books.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Some Minute Body Metals Important, Some Harmful

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some trace elements—metals that are found in the body in minute amounts—play an important role in the body's chemistry. An exception is cadmium. We have none of this element in our bodies at birth and it is not essential to our proper functioning. Too much of it deposited in the kidneys is now believed to be one cause of high blood pressure.

This conclusion is based on the fact that in populations where high blood pressure is common (Japan and the United States) higher concentrations of cadmium are found in the kidneys and in the urine than in countries where high blood pressure is rare, such as central Africa. Although cadmium is not the sole cause of high blood pressure, it appears to aggravate this condition in persons with a hereditary tendency to develop it.

How does this cadmium get into the body? There is some evidence that soft water may pick it up from copper or galvanized iron pipes. Before you condemn all soft water, however, bear in mind that United States Public Health Service standards permit 10 parts per billion as a safe limit.

Other sources of cadmium include tea, coffee, oysters, and foods grown on soil in which phosphate fertilizers are used. These foods present a health hazard only when taken in excessive amounts.

The picture regarding another trace element—chromium—is quite different. This metal is found in the body at birth but the amount present falls rapidly in the first 10 years of life, then it levels off, especially in Americans compared with persons from the Oriental, African and Middle Eastern countries. This decrease in chromium level is associated with an increase in the prevalence of diabetes.

Chromium deficiency may be caused by eating highly refined sugar and foods that are superheated during processing.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Wondering minstrels and troubadours spent their lives traveling, carrying entertainment to the people.

Now, with the world seeming smaller all the time, they are called performers. And they travel more than ever. Like, for instance, singer Diahann Carroll who lost count of the times she traveled between New York and California, and had to count up her round trips to Europe. She knows, though, that she was away from her daughter Suzanne, 6, for 30 weeks out of the 52.

Miss Carroll, slim, elegant in pale pink and completely recognizable despite a pair of outside dark glasses and a large pastel Homberg hat, walked into a mid-Manhattan restaurant amid stares to indulge in some travel talk.

"Of course it was a great thrill — Paris always is — to be called to work with Maurice Chevalier and be directed by Jean Christophe Averty," she said. "They are both very special geniuses."

She referred to her next television appearance — Wednesday night's "C'est la Vie," a musical hour in ABC's "Stage 67" series.

"But to work in Paris? No, not really. There they never even start until noon. But then — ah, then — they never pause until 10 or 10:30 that night."

"I thought they might pause around seven," she continued. "But there was no break. Finally, I decided it was time to become temperamental. 'Okay, fellows,' I said, 'I've got to stop.' And I stopped and I did."

On her return, she was summoned for Harry Belafonte's "A Hundred Years of Laughter," coming March 26.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CU CHI, Vietnam—(NEA)—Short and stocky Larry Swack, a staff sergeant, can best be described as a weight watcher . . . if only because he has an abundance of weight to watch.

His waist is 40 inches. His chest is 44.

And with a straight face he admits to 220 fleshy pounds.

But he wouldn't trade an inch. He loves every ounce. And well he might. Not long ago here the sergeant's built-in pudgy padding may have helped to save his life.

It was late in the afternoon at the time and Swack, a 33-year-old 25th Infantry soldier from Detroit, had just returned to the division base camp from a trip to the front zones.

On arrival he removed his flak jacket (combat armor) and set off on a routine errand up the road from his battalion headquarters.

He walked.

The road was perfectly secure. Five thousand GI tents bordered its flanks and in fact the sergeant was strolling in the middle of the largest division site in all of Vietnam.

It was warm out and a bit dusty. Vehicles rolled past in both directions. Swack's large frame jogged toward a hanging sun.

Suddenly something struck him hard in the chest.

"Oh," he grunted. And he dropped to his knees.

It hit the sergeant without warning. There was no preparatory noise and no one was near him. It felt sharp and stinging and the soldier's first thought was that somebody had hit him with a rock.

Then Swack looked down. His hands were covered with blood and his fingers were sticking together. His tee shirt and fatigue jacket were splattered with an ever-enlarging red circle below his throat.

"Oh!" he said again. There in his chest, three inches below and to the left of his collarbone, was a bullet, a quarter of which protruded from his skin.

Almost immediately several men ran up to the kneeling sergeant. They seemed more excited than he. They pulled his hand away and stared blue-eyed at the mechanics of the wound.

"You O.K.?" "I'm all right." "It's not all the way in." "Get a medic!" "You sure you're O.K.?"

Incredibly, the sergeant was O.K. The bullet, recognizable as a 2½-inch-long .50 caliber machine gun shell, a sniper's special, had struck him at a falling angle, which indicated it was nearly spent.

On impact the cartridge had hit Swack's dogtags and bored a neat hole in them before further penetrating the victim's flesh.

The shell lodged at a 45-degree angle and was set two inches inward and downward. No bones were hit, no serious bodily functions impaired or damaged. Bleeding, however, was heavy.

At first there was no pain but after the initial shock, the sergeant began to feel the shell's intense heat. It was a tracer round and was hot as a cooking rivet.

A medic who had been summoned tried to remove the shell with his fingers and was burned in the attempt. Then, as the brass cooled, the aidman gently withdrew the object from his hole.

Swack said nothing. The onlookers gaped. It was over in moments.

The sergeant stood through the entire operation and, when relieved of the foreign matter, he declined any other aid than a shoulder to lean on and walked to the hospital under his own power.

That evening, somebody theorized that it was fortunate the sergeant was not 50 pounds lighter. With less cushion, the guess was, the sniper round might have penetrated all the way to his lungs.

Swack nodded and swallowed. He felt the soft flab on his 44-inch chest.

And he made a mental note to have a hell of a big breakfast.

The first really modern census was the U.S. census of 1790.

China Problems
Brighten U. S.
War Picture

A favorite saying of military history students for a generation has been: "China's not a nation—just a piece of geography."

The various war lords who partitioned China before Chiang Kai-shek brought about a semblance of national unity illustrated this thinking. And centuries of such division backed up the verdict. Always Peking was the capital—but a capital of nothing. The Great Wall symbolized China to the world: A dual symbol—built to keep the Mongols out of Peking, but likewise marking the point where the authority of the Chinese emperors ended and beyond which they could not venture . . . even within the confines of their own empire.

The Chinese Reds brought down Chiang Kai-shek and proclaimed their country to be finally unified under Mao Tse-tung. But some hard-core doubters in the West disputed it—and now current events in China are giving them the taste of truth.

Ancient and turbulent China once more is breaking up into political fragments and it appears that the days of Mao Tse-tung and his Communist hierarchy are numbered.

The meaning is clear to Americans—possibly early relief from the war in Vietnam. Always it was Mao Tse-tung who seemed to be the North Vietnam "back-up man," urging on the guerrillas with the war cry that the United States was "only a paper tiger"—and now Man's own straw horse is affire.

If this be true today it was equally true Yesterday—posting one of History's imponderables:

We were close to confronting China in the Korean war. Douglas MacArthur's instinct as a soldier told him to boldly risk war with the Chinese, destroying the airfields beyond the Yalu River from which Communist planes were killing our men in Korea.

But President Harry Truman listened to the diplomatic corps' brigade in striped pants and said "No."

Had Truman said "Yes" there would have been no divided Korea—and no war in Vietnam today.

If Americans are the good poker players they are reputed to be history fails to show it. As the late Will Rogers spelled it years ago: We've never yet lost a war—nor won a peace conference.

This is recommended reading for street demonstrators against the war in Vietnam—if they can read.

Goldwater

Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater — a Richard M. Nixon supporter — said today he hasn't forgiven Michigan Gov. George Romney for refusing to support Goldwater's 1964 bid for the presidency.

"I have not forgiven Gov. Romney for neglecting me in my campaign and I don't know whether I ever can," Goldwater said in a telephone interview. "I don't want to start any fights among Republicans but I'm a Nixon man and I'm going down the line for him."

Goldwater said he would support Romney if the governor wins the 1968 GOP nomination for the presidency. Would he urge his followers to get behind Romney?

"Let's wait and see," he responded. Goldwater's statement came after it was learned he had invited Romney to be principal speaker at an Arizona Republican fund-raising dinner.

Bill Aimed to Protect State Worker

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill creating a merit system was introduced "as a bipartisan effort" to give state employees job security based on ability, state Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage said Tuesday.

Wells introduced the measure in the Arkansas House, saying it would cover an estimated 12,000 to 13,000 state employees.

Wells said he believed the measure would be favored by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller if the governor "reads and studies it."

Rockefeller objected to an earlier Senate bill that would have been retroactive to Jan. 1, allowing employees dismissed after Rockefeller took office to be reinstated. The previous bill was defeated in the House.

Wells' measure, which has a provision prohibiting state employees from engaging in political campaigns, would establish a three-member Civil Service Commission to head a state personnel department within the executive branch. The governor would appoint the commission members.

Other measures introduced in the legislature Tuesday include:

— A bill defining the qualifications of grand and petit jurors.

— A resolution by the executive committee of the Democratic caucus expressing belief that no member of the General Assembly should use his office for his personal interests.

— A resolution asking Congress to broaden and strengthen the Social Security system.

— A bill authorizing state agencies, departments, commissions and boards to provide group life, accident and health insurance for employees.

— A bill requiring the state Banking Board to hold a public hearing prior to increasing maximum interest rates paid by financial institutions.

SENATE

— An administration measure that would require all state agencies to make their rules and regulations public and require the secretary of state to publish them in an "Arkansas Register." A similar bill was introduced in the House.

— A bill that would authorize the state Racing Commission to extend horse and dog racing meets by two days if one-third net proceeds from the races go to the cities in which they are held and the rest to the Arkansas Children's Colony at Conway.

— A bill that would increase the premium tax on domestic insurance companies with proceeds to go into the firemen's relief and pension funds in the cities in which policies are written.

— A bill that would require notification of the Jefferson and Lincoln county sheriffs when prisoners escape from the State Penitentiary.

— A bill that would limit the

Many Come to CIA's Defense in Financing Groups, Organizations

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency sought to curtail its financing of private organizations in the past but ran into objections from other arms of the government, says Sen. Milton R. Young.

The North Dakota Republican said every investment the CIA made in an organization outside the government was undertaken on written instructions, apparently from the National Security Council.

He said the spy agency's checks were subject to scrutiny in the Bureau of the Budget, like the Security Council, a White House agency.

Young said in some instances CIA financial support originally was promoted by the State Department.

Young, senior Republican on the Senate panel which oversees CIA financing and operation, said the intelligence agency was trying to get some of its instructions changed prior to the public storm that broke last week with disclosure it had been subsidizing the National Student Association.

Young said secrecy restrictions barred his giving a more detailed description. He talked after CIA Director Richard Helms briefed the Senate panel for three hours Tuesday. Helms also met with the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate subcommittee, said Helms reported the agency is withdrawing financial support of some private organizations.

He would not quote Helms further, Russell did not make Cathederal at Lector. Prior to his clear whether the Helms report involved a half aid to groups Sixty was a communicant of still secretly receiving CIA Saint James' Church, Magnolia funds, Helms would not answer which is also pastored by Father Newman's questions after the Hancock.

Top Secret Operation

Dubbed Operation Crowbar, the move involved transporting secret spy files, two million sets of fingerprints, three million names and aliases and the Yard's famous "Black Museum" of past crimes to the new, multimillion-dollar, 20-story headquarters.

Gambling in 25 Counties, Says Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — North Little Rock Mayor W. F. Laman declared Tuesday he would not do "one damn thing" about Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's ultimatum that local officials clean up gambling in the cities.

The governor told a news conference Tuesday that State Police had uncovered illegal gambling in 25 counties and he said that if local officials did not stop these operations he will have state troopers to do so.

"I know how many slot machines and employees there are in different places," Rockefeller said, "how many people were in the places Saturday night and so on. I can tell you pretty much everything except how much money they took in."

Laman has contended there is no flagrant open gambling in North Little Rock but he has admitted that gambling and other vices were present in private clubs.

Police Chief Ray D. Vick of North Little Rock said his men had made several raids on suspected gambling establishments but had been unable to find anything.

"Rockefeller might be able to do something," Vick said. "His men might be able to get in because they're not known. All my men are known all over the city, you know that."

Prosecutor Walter G. Wright of Hot Springs said that if wide opening gambling existed in Hot Springs, he had not been notified of it.

Wright declined comment until he saw the substance of let- ters Rockefeller said he would mail law enforcement officials across the state.

"My only comment now is that as far as I know we have cooperated with the governor," Wright said.

Rockefeller did not make it clear whether his letters telling of gambling situations would be sent to all counties or the 25 in which he said gambling had been taking place.

"If the letter doesn't apply to their counties, God bless them," Rockefeller said. "If it does and they choose not to act, I expect to send in the State Police."

Rockefeller said he expected that three or four raids by the State Police would convince everyone he means business.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson of Pulaski County charged K. Barney Levine with illegally operating the Westwood Club as a gambling house and then ordered the club locked as a public nuisance.

Adkisson made the move after taking a sworn statement from Cliff McIntyre, an Arkansas Democrat reporter, that he had witnessed a dice game and a blackjack game in a back room of the club Friday night.

Washington's Birthday Observance

WASHINGTON (AP) — In keeping with a tradition started in 1912, Congress observes Washington's Birthday today by listening to a reading of the first president's Farewell Address.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., reads it in the Senate.

The farewell message, which warns of arguments was never delivered by Washington. It was issued in the form of a news release in Philadelphia near the end of his second term.

LBJ on Lookout for Peace Move But Will Keep Up Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources picture President Johnson as maintaining a constant course on Vietnam policy — willing to enter peace overtures, but determined to continue the bombing of North Vietnam in their absence.

They said Thursday Johnson feels the United States has neither hardened nor softened its attitude toward peace talks in recent weeks.

Those familiar with the President's views said he is convinced the Soviet Union wants peace restored in Vietnam and appreciates its efforts in this direction.

Meanwhile a longtime critic of U.S. military policy in Vietnam, retired Gen. James M. Gavin, said he believes internal turmoil in Red China offers a prime opportunity for ending the Vietnam war.

Gavin told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that Red China's problems might make North Vietnam more willing to negotiate a settlement. He also warned that escalation of the war at this time could provide the Chinese with the basis for stabilizing its inner disorders, while responding to Hanoi's need for aid.

In other developments:

— A debate on Vietnam appeared to be shaping up in the Senate as it prepares to take up Thursday the $4.5 billion spending authorization bill.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., called Tuesday for extended debate on the bill by the full Senate, noting it marked the first opportunity for floor discussion of the war. He said he was confident there wouldn't be a vote on the measure for several days. But Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long of Louisiana said he hoped for an immediate vote.

— The Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., chaplain of Yale University, called for clergy and seminarians to give up their draft exemptions and register instead as conscientious objectors to protest the war.

Coffin also urged the clergy to organize mass demonstrations at which thousands of students would turn in their draft cards, thus refusing to serve in Vietnam.

— Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House Foreign Relations and Government Information subcommittee, asked Pentagon assurances that news- men won't be hampered by a reported plan to bring all American civilians under jurisdiction of military law.

— The Coast Guard said war costs have resulted in slashing from $201 million to $97 million its budget for replacing ships and aircraft in the coming year.

While sources talked of Johnson's views on Vietnam, they also reported the President:

— Expects an upsurge in the nation's economy in the last six months of this year.

— Sees the need for much work to be done before there could be any U.S.-Soviet agreement on limiting deployment of antimissile defense systems.

Youths Ousted for Protests

LONDON (AP) — Two youths and a girl shouting protests against the Vietnam war were hustled out of the public gallery of the House of Commons Monday night during a debate on highway safety.

The girl showered leaflets into the chamber and screamed: "Why are you talking about accidental deaths when deliberate murder is being carried out in Vietnam?"

Douglas Is Not Afraid to Argue

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Douglas wasn't afraid of controversy when he was U. S. Senator from Illinois and he isn't afraid of it now that he's "just a schoolteacher" again.

"Argue with me, play the devil's advocate," the silver-haired economist-statesman shouted at his class of 20 at the New School for Social Research Tuesday night. He pounded on the birch-topped table in front of him so hard that all eight of the tables pushed together for the seminar shook and students jumped up in alarm.

Then there was a burst of laughter, in which Douglas joined, and a curly-haired man of about 35 took up the challenge.

The former senator, defeated by Republican Charles Percy last November, had upheld the current government spending for welfare and foreign aid and asked: "Would someone come forward and defend the conservative cause?"

To which the "devil's advocate" replied "by increasing the deficit for welfare spending, we are reducing the incentive for private enterprise to increase the profits which would eventually filter down to these people on welfare."

— The Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., chaplain of Yale University, called for clergy and seminarians to give up their draft exemptions and register instead as conscientious objectors to protest the war.

Coffin also urged the clergy to organize mass demonstrations at which thousands of students would turn in their draft cards, thus refusing to serve in Vietnam.

— Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House Foreign Relations and Government Information subcommittee, asked Pentagon assurances that news- men won't be hampered by a reported plan to bring all American civilians under jurisdiction of military law.

— The Coast Guard said war costs have resulted in slashing from $201 million to $97 million its budget for replacing ships and aircraft in the coming year.

While sources talked of Johnson's views on Vietnam, they also reported the President:

— Sees the need for much work to be done before there could be any U.S.-Soviet agreement on limiting deployment of antimissile defense systems.

Infantry Hit Hard by Red Mortar Fire

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — A company of infantry suffered heavy casualties in two Communist mortar attacks as it was setting up a base camp, U. S. military headquarters announced today.

A spokesman said the company of 178 men of the U. S. 4th Infantry division was hit by heavy mortar shelling 41 miles southwest of Kontum City. The heavy casualties usually means a unit is no longer in effective fighting force.

Fourth Division tanks in the same area beat off a close-quarter attack by Communist suicide troops who climbed aboard the armored vehicles. The tank crews raked each other's targets with machine-gun fire to clear off the Communists, and U. S. headquarters said the tanks sustained no casualties and only light damage to three tanks.

It was the first time reported in the Vietnam war that the enemy climbed onto tanks although this was a tactic frequently employed by the Communists in the Korean war.

Ground action continued brisk with the U. S. military command reporting 160 enemy killed in clashes across the country. U. S. Marines in the northern provinces accounted for more than half of the enemy toll, reporting 88 Communists troops killed in scattering fighting. This included 48 killed in Operation Deckhouse, 6 on the coastal plains, 38 miles southeast of Quang Ngai City.
